DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 8 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 8 recites, "A process for producing a polyurethane comprising forming the polyurethane the mixture of claim 1 with at least one isocyanate. This does not make sense. Appropriate correction is required.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

4. Claims 1-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as anticipated by or, in the alternative, under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as obvious over WO/02/02684, (equivalent reference PG Pub 20030191217 to Malz et al. will be used as an English translation).

WO/02/02684 and PG Pub 20030191217 disclose stabilizers, preferably amorphous or liquid stabilizers containing at least two phenolic groups bonded to one another via a connecting residue (II) which is a polyol and/or amine with a number-average molar mass of from 75.times.F g/mol to 250.times.F g/mol, preferably from 100.times.F g/mol to 200.times.F g/mol, in particular from 100.times.F g/mol to 150.times.F g/mol, where the term F is the number of phenolic groups in the molecule. According to the invention, one way of calculating the molar mass range of the invention is to multiply the number of phenolic groups by 75 and by 250. If the number of phenolic groups is (F=2); this gives a molar mass range of from 150 to 500 g/mol. The invention further relates to plastics, in particular thermoplastics, in particular thermoplastic polyurethanes, comprising stabilizers of this type, to processes for preparing thermoplastic polyurethanes, and to the use of the stabilizers. See the abstract and paragraph [0001].

The compounds of paragraph [0013] which may be used in various combinations correspond to or combine to form applicant's compounds of formula X and XX

Examples 9 and 12 of the reference shows a process for the synthesis of mixtures and reaction products of 3-(3,5-di-tert-butyl-4-hydroxyphenyl)propionate) and polytetrahydrofuran. See paragraphs [0091 and 0101].

Applicant's species would have been achieved by following the direction of the patented invention at paragraphs [0008] through [0029]. The synthesis of compounds having ester connecting groups is contemplated. See paragraph [0019]. Because the components and reactants of the published invention are the same as applicants, the properties of these components are thought to be inherently the same as applicant's components. It would have been obvious to one of ordinary skill in the art at the time of applicant's invention to combine any of these components in the manner prescribed by Malz et al, to yield stabilizing compositions and polyurethane compositions in the manner dictated therein.
